

GCEC

I had a memorable experience in this convention. I met a lot of students from different countries, who are studying in foreign countries.

Firstly, I didn't expect this workshop would be great for me so much. I was interested in going abroad, meeting a lot of people and talking with them before GCEC. But since I got to HKUST, I found it different from what I was expecting in a good way.

Secondly, I speak daily English because of studying abroad, so I made a lot of friends easily. But in terms of discussion, it was so hard for me to understand what every people say and to give my comment to them. There are two reasons why it was so hard for me.

The first reason is that a lot of student are from different countries. They have a several kinds of accents of speaking, which means I have my accent as well, and a several different background on themselves. But then, the more different they are from me, the more interesting these life in GCEC was.

The second reason is that my English is not good enough for discussing. When the convention started, I realized that they were awesome at presentation, like TED. It was scaring me. Because I was focusing on English for making a friend and enjoying to talk. But then, I found out that I'd have to focus on next level of English, which is for discussing and meeting for the future, maybe on my job.

There were a lot of chances to inspire me through GCEC. It should be because of the participants, the organizer, the helper, the place and the convention.

I really appreciate it all.

Finally, this convention makes me think of global integration and leadership, which is important for us who would be working in abroad or with foreign companies. Also these questions are still difficult for us. We need to keep thinking of it.

Through this convention, we all, participants, seemed to become like good companies. Someone said "This is a global integration". That would be when all of us thought the same thing as everyone else.

Thank you all.
