AT A GLANCE

Fast Facts 2021-2022

Kyushu University

Founded in 1911, Kyushu University is a leading research-oriented institute of higher education in Fukuoka, which is historically renowned as Japan's gateway to Asia for profound cultural and economic interactions due to its geographical proximity to continental Asia. The University celebrated its first centennial anniversary in 2011 and is taking bold steps forward into its second century. With an enrollment of nearly 20,000 students, it is comprised of 12 undergraduate schools, 18 graduate schools, 17 faculties, 5 research institutes, and a hospital, as well as over 50 affiliated research centers. The University's 12th undergraduate school, the School of Interdisciplinary Science and Innovation was launched in April 2018. The international student population is more than 2,200, representing about 100 countries and regions and reflecting our steadfast commitment to internationalization. The new, state-of-art Ito Campus is designed for the development of next-generation technologies, with particular focus on the environment and energy-related research. Blessed with an abundance of nature and history, this new campus is a comprehensive research center that reflects our high regard for the preservation of green areas, groundwater, landscape, and historical remains, and has achieved harmonious co-existence with its surrounding natural environment.

12
universities from Japan and UK

RENKEI is a partnership for research collaboration between universities in Japan and the UK. It's co-chaired by Kyushu University and the University of Southampton to deepen its collaboration.

Priority Partnerships

Kyushu-Illinois

Kyushu University and the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign reached an agreement to be strategic partners and promote mutually beneficial and sustainable collaboration.

Kyushu-SNU

Kyushu University and Seoul National University (SNU) identified each other as a high priority partner, and agreed to work on deepening the links.

110th Anniversary and Beyond

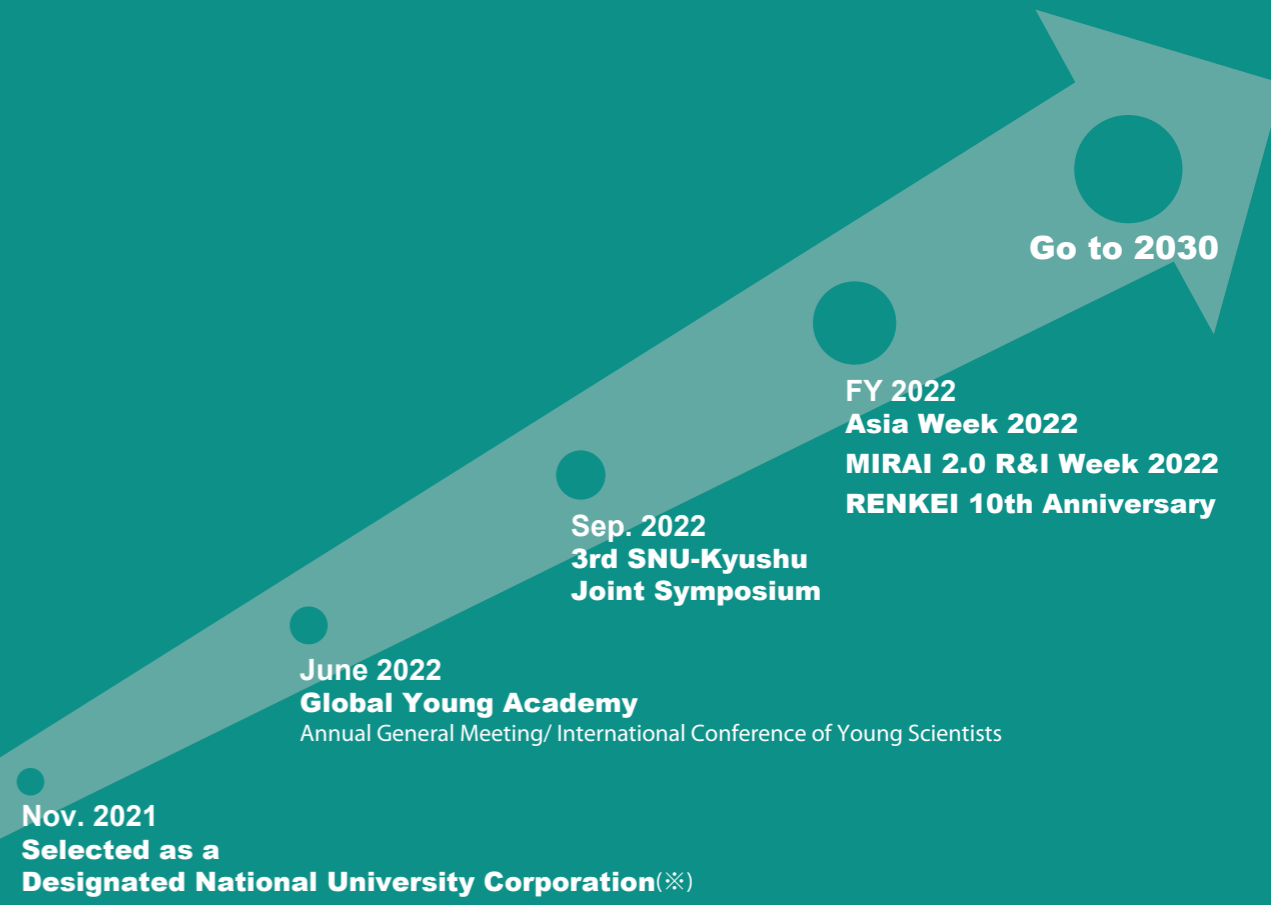

Celebrating its 110th anniversary, Kyushu University is determined to become a world-class hub for excellence in research and education. Through our persistent efforts to provide a platform to create dialogue and collaboration, multiple activities are conducted in the coming year and beyond.

VISION 2030

Strengthen International Collaboration

1. Enhance international collaboration with strategic partners
2. Accelerate international talent circulation through expansion of joint research
3. Make the campus environment more conducive to globalization

※ The Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science, and Technology (MEXT) implemented a system in April 2017 to raise Japan's educational and research levels and foster innovation by designating national university corporations as "Designated National University Corporations". MEXT has so far chosen ten universities, including Kyushu University, that excel in research quality, community engagement, and international collaboration.
